RUPERT - The body of a man shipped here from Chicago, in the belief that it was a member of a Rupert family, is being held here until word is received from Chicago.

Personnel at Walk Mortuary here said there has been no word as to whether Ray Newman, who was believed to be the dead man, is alive or not. His mother, Mrs. Christ Newman, Rupert, was notified last week that her son had been found in a Chicago hotel room.

Authorities here have since fingerprinted the body and referred the prints to Chicago in the hope of establishing identity.

get Shepard's opinion overruled by a court, thus nullified the recall. Rankin has conceded that the recall campaign was a failure.

Gene G. Millec, a painting contractor at St. Maries, was chairman of the committee to recall Senator William H. P. Waters.

But Millec agreed with Rankin and others that the recall is dead. He blamed inactivity by other members of the committee - whom he never identified.

John McMurray, Republican state chairman, said he believes the recall move will have no effect on Church's campaign for re-election.

"I think at one time, when it was being pursued to the full extent," McMurray said, "that the people thought that maybe Senator Waters was being recalled and that they might have voted for him out of sympathy. By the time the election comes around I think it will be mostly forgotten."

McMurray and other Republican leaders are being put out to have anything to do with the recall movement.

National Conspiracy Not Evident In Recent Riots

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. at-large investigators, quietly working in cities across the nation, have found no evidence of a national conspiracy behind outbreaks of violence—but believe there is a "loose linkage" among militant Negro leaders. That preliminary indication is in line with the report of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to President Johnson's Commission on Civil Disorders. Senate sources disclosing it said there are weeks, perhaps months, before any report will be ready on the inquiry.

Hoover appeared before President's anti-riot commission Aug. 1 and said that on the basis of his knowledge of 52 riots in the past three years, he found no indications of a conspiracy. But he did say there were indications outside agitators were involved in some of these disturbances.

David Ginsburg, executive director of the commission, said an investigation ahead of the FBI chief's appearance that the outside agitation was not something to which Hoover "gave a great deal of weight or with which he was greatly concerned."

As the Senate investigators worked, word came Wednesday from Philadelphia of an alleged plot to start a race riot there this summer which, authorities said, involved a plan to poison hundreds of Philadelphia policemen.

Dist. Atty. Arlen Specter, announcing an arrest in the case, said the plot was the work of members of the Revolutionary Action Movement—RAM—a Negro extremist group. Specter said his own life and those of the mayor and police chief "were to be taken."

RAM members previously have been connected with a conspiracy to kill moderate Negro civil rights leaders and with a plan to blow up the Statue of Liberty and other American monuments.

The Senate, assigning its permanent subcommittee on investigations to undertake an inquiry into racial riots in U.S. cities, set next Monday as the deadline for an interim report.

There will be a report of facts, but it will contain no findings, sources said. Instead, it will cover the steps taken to launch the investigation.

Subcommittee investigators have compiled a list of 131 cities hit by racial outbreaks. The investigation itself will cover 60 to 75 of them.

174 Signatures Protest Forming G.F. Labor Camp

GLENN FERRY—A petition signed by 174 people protesting the establishment of a labor camp was presented to the city council during a meeting this week.

The petition requested an ordinance immediately enacted to prohibit the city from furnishing water or sewer facilities to an individual, group or property outside the city limits.

It also requested an ordinance prohibiting the construction and operation of a labor camp within the city limits and preventing the city from permitting an extension of a labor camp, mill, grant or otherwise.

There were more than 50 visitors at Tuesday's meeting, according to Eddie Bostle, city clerk. No action was taken by the council.

Two front springs were ordered for the city dump truck and a drain pipe was ordered for the corner of Cleveland Ave. and Oregon Street. Mayor T. L. Feeny was authorized to negotiate with the Mountain Home Job Corps center to cover the city dump. An application for a rebuilt water meter was tabled and W. L. Henderson's application for a building permit was referred to the zoning committee.

A water meter and sewer hookup application from the Glenns Ferry Veterans Memorial Council, with building permit of $19,000 was approved. Jerry Crow's claim for spray damage was referred to the city's insurance company. Mrs. R. H. Patterson's resignation from the Glenns Ferry Library Board was accepted.

Rusk, Gromyko Talks Don't Change Position Of Either

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said he did not expect the talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko discussed the Vietnam war Wednesday night, but the talks brought "no change in the position of either side."

Earlier, Rusk told the American Bankers' Association that those calling for a halt to bombing of North Vietnam should insure that Hanoi stop aggression in the South. He said he found it "hard to understand how one side can stop a war."

Gromyko's position has been that "peace may be brought about in Vietnam solely as a result of the withdrawal of the aggressors"—meaning the United States.

It was the third day in a row that Rusk and Gromyko dined together. Their latest meeting lasted 3 hours, 15 minutes, and Rusk called it a "very happy discussion" on such subjects as disarmament. The talks were "businesslike," he told newsmen, "but we reached no dramatic conclusions."

The secretary of state said much of the discussion was about progress on a treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons. He said both nations hope to present a treaty to the U.N. General Assembly for ratification soon.

Deficit Financing

The Treasury estimated the income tax surcharge proposed by the White House if adopted now, would take $4.7 billion out of private spending in the next fiscal year. But in the light of a budget deficit predicted to go above $29 billion, reducing inflationary pressures by one-sixth seems hardly sufficient to avoid fiscal deficit.

One source of inflation is high interest rates which raise the cost of doing business and increase prices. Federal Reserve Chairman Martin has testified that interest rates "will be a lot higher if there is no tax bill."

It is difficult, however, to see how removing an additional $5 billion from the public's pockets is going to have a great effect on the movement of interest rates. The Treasury would still have to cope with a deficit of around $25 billion, far exceeding the $12.9 billion deficit incurred by the Eisenhower administration in fiscal 1959.

The inflationary impact of financing a $24 billion deficit, as the Treasury would have to do, are inescapable. The government's present competition with private business for loans to finance vastly increased spending for Vietnam and domestic programs is already being felt. Accordingly, the attempt to balance a $29 billion deficit with a $5 billion surtax scarcely qualifies as a brake on inflation.

If high taxes could slow inflation, the nation would be in one of the greatest deflationary periods in history.

Up Goes The Shield

It was obvious in Defense Secretary McNamara's announcement that the U.S. plan to build a $5-billion antiballistic missile system is an unhappy concession to the realities of an imperfect world.

The purpose of the system is defense against the anticipated intercontinental missile capability of Red China in the next decade. It would be folly for the U.S. to nor Russia for Red China to take on the United States in a thermonuclear contest but the nation must proceed on the assumption that it is possible.

If there is any cheer to be drawn from this decision it is that it will spend only $5 billion and not the $40 billion demanded by some administration critics for a vast ABM system to defend major cities from attack. Neither the U.S. nor Russia has the ability to mount a nuclear attack which would knock out all the other's retaliatory forces, he said.

In fact, both have more second-strike capability—the ability to respond after suffering a nuclear attack—than they need.

Even a plan to commit $5 billion to such a system is sobering at a time when the administration is hard put to persuade Congress to raise taxes and to fund for all the other items it has in the fire.

"No sane citizens," said the secretary of defense, "no sane political leader, no sane nation, wants thermonuclear war." Yet he outlined the grim details of the U.S.-Soviet standoff in thermonuclear weapons, persuasively arguing again that the massive arsenal of the U.S. is an effective antiballistic missile system itself.

Even after a coordinated nuclear attack, that system could inflict enough damage on the Soviet Union to destroy its society as a 20th century body.

But the Soviet Union is not insane enough to invite such consequences as suggested in Mr. McNamara's description of another benefit from the limited ABM system: Protection of "our population against the improbable but possible accident in the launch of an intercontinental missile by any one of the nuclear powers."

Accidental is the operative word. No system would be complete protection from heavy deliberate attack and no deliberate attack is likely to be mounted when massive retaliatory destruction is the assured result.

This $5-billion plan may be the prod the Soviets need to pool their minds with American minds to find a sane alternative. Even $5 billion is a high enough price to pay for theoretical defense when the nation risks postponing the expenditure of billions that would be needed for defense against all possible contingencies.

WASHINGTON (NES) — It is quite misleading to contend, as urbanologist Daniel P. Moynihan and others are now doing, that the United States alone among major western nations has failed to wipe out slums in the past 40 years.

The argument throws an addied burden of guilt upon American society, since it suggests that other countries are finding answers to slum problems which insensitive, blinkered Americans — though richer than their foreign brethren — just cannot seem to discover.

One response to this argument is that, as it applies to Western European cities, it is only partly true. Peter Hall, a British economic geographer, says in a book called "The World Cities" that Paris (with 8 million people in its area) "today suffers from a gargantuan problem of obsolescent and sub-standard housing." It is the problem, he says, of all urban France.

Only a little more than 40 percent of all Parisian dwellings have the three basic facilities of water, a lavatory and a washing place. Nearly half of all dwellings have only one or two rooms. The congestion is staggering, and nearly 90 percent of the housing is more than 50 years old, much of it older than 1850.

London is not as bad off, but it has key slum pockets, particularly areas occupied by Pakistanis and by West Indian Negroes. Conditions in the Paddington district are dismal.

Hall finds in the huge Rhine-Ruhr urban industrial complex in West Germany "serious problems of overcrowding and obsolescence."

Moynihan and those who echo him overlook another matter. Though European cities, like American, are growing fast through in-migration from rural areas, the character of the migration in the United States is unique.

More than 50 years ago, more than 25 million Negroes—almost one-fifth of the total U.S. Negro population today—have moved into American cities, mostly the great northern centers. A high proportion of these urban Negroes are from southern rural areas.

These Negro newcomers, many of them quite young, are peculiarly disadvantaged by long deprivation and insufficient schooling and training for the challenges of urban living—most important, job-holding. Moreover, this great northerly side of disadvantaged Negroes can continue at high pace for years to come. For, despite the migration, more than 40 million Negroes in the South attained slightly in the last census period. The "Scram for Slums" and Ben Waters' note in their book, "This U.S.A.," They (the southern Negroes) can keep leaving, but there will be more to leave at a later date."

The migrational flow of untrained, untrained Negroes to the great U.S. cities is occurring at an extremely difficult time in history when this country's economy is putting a higher and higher dependence on automation and sharply developed skills in the job field.

Today, nearly three-fourths of all Negroes live in the cities. Even in the South, six of every 10 are urbanized. Half a century ago, three-fourths of the much smaller total Negro population lived in the rural South.

They are heavily discriminated against in employment, schooling and housing, which severely limit their mobility within U.S. urban areas. Taken together with their background of migration before this country's makes them a huge and very special category of urban immigrant unmatched anywhere on earth.

To say that European nations which have had no more than a minor side effect of this problem have wiped out city slums and we have not is really to say nothing. We in America are trying, not altogether successfully, to cope with waves while our friends in other lands have been dealing with ripples.

Needed Changes

WASHINGTON (NEA) — New surveys of Negro attitudes in Watts and other race-troubled areas point to a number of needed changes in our national race-prevention programs.

University men who have completed new surveys of attitudes in Watts have found that the kind of home the Watts Negro lives in and the way he and his family kept up that home seemed to be significant. Twenty-eight per cent of the homes lived in poorly-kept homes participated actively in the riots. Only 17 per cent of those who lived in well-kept homes participated.

First among the problems the Negroes in Watts complained about, the survey seemed to indicate, concerned housing and living conditions in dirty streets and dilapidated housing.

These problems ran well ahead of complaints over discrimination, racism, police malpractice and "bad race relations."

Though there was also Negro concern over the lack of jobs, surprisingly, however, job concern was not as large a factor in Watts as living conditions. In fact, living conditions seemed to be more frequently connected with other complaints.

For example, those people in Watts with poorly-kept homes tended more frequently to complain of "police malpractice" than those from well-kept homes. In fact, the survey found more discrimination and more police malpractice in the area of poor housing.

Negroes in a number of surveys in various parts of the United States have indicated that rent gouging is also a major complaint. They would pay higher rents for inferior slum-type, rat-infested housing than for decent people pay for better homes.

Note one: In Watts, at least, living conditions were a chief complaint. Note two: Negro Negro attitudes varied sharply between those who lived in well-kept (not necessarily better) homes and those who lived in poor ones.

This leads to the thought that a major step forward would be a heavy self-help program in which Negro families would be encouraged and helped to fix up the places in which they live. "We can't paint and we can't brush there have worked wonders in some places I've been," one Negro man said.

Most of the men this reporter has talked to who believe in the self-help programs also believe these projects must be coordinated with drives to get owners of rented rundown houses and tenement buildings to raise markedly their standards of maintenance. In crowded areas it is usually impossible for each resident individually and on his own to successfully maintain decent standards of living.

Individuals renting rundown residences are usually unable to make structural repairs.

The experienced men talked to by this reporter said that individual initiative, spurred on by citizens of the community, is much more effective than government action in slum clearance projects, they believe, often create new slums.

In areas surveyed by this reporter, middle-class Negroes complain they find it difficult to find decent housing in their neighborhoods. It's a problem, separate and apart from any desire to get into a white neighborhood (and many do not want to). They also say they find it very difficult to secure better housing.

To summarize, the surveys indicate that solving the housing problem is a top priority for Negroes to do more themselves to solve their housing problems—would be one major step toward preventing riots.

Nixon Creates A New Image

WASHINGTON—Slowly, a d ever so carefully, Richard Nixon is seeking to create a new image for his run at the White House in 1968. It is an image of one part Dwight Eisenhower and one part Jack Kennedy.

In short, the image of a "respectable liberal."

In all his recent utterances, Nixon has managed simultaneously to present himself as a candidate concerned with the interests of America abroad—the Jack Kennedy bit—and yet in agreement with our basic foreign policy as in the vital national interest—the Eisenhower touch.

He has even added a pinch of Bobby Kennedy in his charge that the United States, in the underprivileged neighborhoods of the world, seems too often to be "the champion of the status quo."

Even for a shrewd political practitioner like Nixon, this play will take a bit of doing. But so far he has made a start at presenting himself to the electorate as a moderate alternative to the fast-moving Ronnie Reagan of California.

Nixon's most elegant effort along these lines got little notice from the political analysts. This was his speech before the influential National Industrial Conference Board in New York, in which he attacked the Johnson Administration's foreign policy as sowing distrust abroad, while urging that the nation utilize the talents and energy of its people to change and progress.

Both of those utterances were almost pure Jack Kennedy, the Kennedy Kennedy hammered on in 1960 when he was demanding that America start "moving ahead." They said to Nixon's audience that here was a moderate conservative — or "respectable liberal" — who could be trusted to protect America's good name without turning back the clock on international social progress.

Nixon, in short, was a Dick Kennedy who could warm the hearts of both liberal and conservative. America cannot turn around. If for no other reason than in the "world city, there is no retreat to the suburbs — there can be no sanctuary for the rich in the world of the Vietnam."

It would be difficult to find a shrewder mixture of Jack Kennedy and Eisenhower — a blending of Kennedy's concern for the poor with Eisenhower's preoccupation with the dangers posed to the nation by instability and unrest abroad.

And, for the pragmatist, Nixon could offer under the Eisenhower in discussing the Vietnam war. He sneered at the nation's "tendency to 'moralize about our being there to defend democracy.'"

Instead, he said, "the plain fact of the matter that we are fighting in Vietnam for the same reason we fought in World War II and Korea: because the vital national interest is at stake."

Nixon's strategy is plain to discern. With the decline of Michigan's Gov. George Romney, Nixon must face the strong possibility that the race for the Republican Presidential nomination will come down to a battle between him and Reagan. Nixon can depend on the support of his own variety of conservatives. He seeks now to ingratiate himself with the so-called Rockefeller wing of the party as an alternative to Ronnie Reagan whose very name causes the moderate nightmares.

Over the longer haul, Nixon also realizes that he cannot win the White House by resorting to Barry Goldwater's 1964 "Southern strategy" based on winning most of the electoral votes of the Deep South. A man named George Wallace stands in his way there, and every poll has shown that the real governor of Alabama will cut deep into the vote of a Republican candidate than into Lyndon Johnson's vote. Somehow, Nixon must find a broader base of support, which means he must turn to the left.

Nixon is those who complain that Nixon's new strategy is an act of treason against the Republican right-wing. This is unfair. At least he would ascend to the Vice Presidency, Nixon has always been a moderate Republican. His clashes with the Rockefeller wing have been largely difference of personal opinion, not of principle.

Moreover, the strategy is most realistic. As in 1964, the liberal Republican leaders seem determined to so muddle about that they will lose the chance to nominate a man of their choice in Miami Beach, Florida.

If you think women act crazy at a department store bargain sale, go watch the New York Stock Exchange in action some time. Men are just as bad at their kind of bargain sales.

Women who are overfond of cats usually have been disappointed in love earlier in life, or that is why they love cats. They are so independent by nature that they run away from them. That is what they admire in a cat — its seemingly aloofness.

ADVICE FOR THIRD PARTY CANDIDATES
Prof. John Kenneth Galbraith, the new chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, has some good advice for those who are promoting peace tickets in the 1968 campaign: don't.

Professor Galbraith is himself a fervent and articulate critic of U.S. policy in Vietnam. But he is convinced that opposition to the war can best be expressed through the machinery of the major parties. This is because the third party ticket, as he put it yesterday, is invariably weaker than its cause.

Any number of people have been mentioned as possible candidates on an anti-war ticket in 1968, but the most prominent are Li Gen, James Gavin, one-time ambassador to France, Dr. Benjamin Spock, the gynecologist, Dr. Martin Luther King, the Vietnam rights leader, and Dick Gregory, the comedian and civil rights activist. Possibly the heaviest pressure has fallen on Dr. King, who has responded with the same argument used by Professor Galbraith: that in the voting booth he would be weaker than his cause, and thus hurt the cause rather than help it.

There can be little doubt that he is right. Many voters who agree with Dr. King's peace message are not ready to vote for the politics of both major party candidates, would nevertheless vote the major party ticket rather than throw their votes away.

That would leave the peace party with fewer voters than there are voters who sympathize with its cause. The peace party thus cannot fail to reflect the weight of anti-war opinion in the country and give those who wish to use it a handy means of writing the peace message off. Since there is virtually no chance of a third party winning, its only function would be to register a protest—voice a demand for peace.

That is the argument that is made in the argument produced by Dr. King and Professor Galbraith. It is a strong argument.

The route to political influence in this country still lies within the framework of the Democratic and Republican parties. The ideological makeup of next year's nominating conventions will have far more effect on American foreign policy than any third party, and it is here where the President's critics should be concentrating their efforts.—Lewisiston Tribune.

A PROMISING BEGINNING
The progress in the field of mental retardation has been rapid in the last few years. The late President Kennedy's panel of experts on retardation awakened the nation to the state of neglect to which so many Americans had been consigned. President Johnson's Committee on Mental Retardation has now catalogued in a progress report some of the recent achievements. They include the beginning of a national network of basic research and training facilities; a program in every state providing comprehensive services for retarded; anti-measles campaigns in almost every state; phenylketonuria testing for infants in 48 states; and a general increase in training and care facilities for the retarded.

Despite this rapid acceleration, the President's committee found half of the nation's 25,000 school districts still offer no classes for pupils with special learning problems. It called for more research, more facilities, more treatment, more special training and more public awareness of the plight of 4,000,000 Americans who have mental retardation.

A first beginning has been made, but it is clear from the committee's report to the President, it is only a beginning.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

There can be little doubt that he is right. Many voters who agree with Dr. King's peace message are not ready to vote for the politics of both major party candidates, would nevertheless vote the major party ticket rather than throw their votes away.

Shortage Of Silver Starts Metal Search

By LAURANCE F. STUNTZ
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The world's silver shortage has touched off a search for the metal not only in the ground but also in the world's junk piles.

The National Association of Secondary Metals, the trade organization of the reclaimed metals industry, recently devoted most of a regional convention to a discussion of how to get the silver out of the junk.

The need is serious. Half the American silver consumed goes into such industrial products as silver-silver batteries, brazing metals and electronic components. Some of these can use substitute metals but only at the cost of inefficiency. And for the photographic industry, the largest single user of the precious metal, no substitutes have been found.

Industrial consumers of metal must have it, whatever the cost. Unlike the makers of silverware and jewelry, they cannot reduce output when silver prices rise. Industrial consumption has risen from 20 per cent of the total 15 years ago to 50 per cent now. It is still going up.

The basic difficulty is that the world is using three times as much silver every year as it produces. Production last year was 42 million ounces, consumption 150 million. This shortfall of some 100 million ounces, according to Simon D. Strauss, a leading refiner, will continue into the foreseeable future.

For a few years, he says, it can be filled from two sources. One is the immense hoard of silver, in the form of jewelry

PRINCE FELIZ YOUSSEUPOFF

... who claimed he killed the mystic Rasputin at the Russian royal court in 1919, dies at his exile home in Paris Thursday. He was 81. (AP wirephoto) and old coins, hoarded in India. This has been estimated at half a billion ounces, enough for five years — if the Indians can be persuaded to give it up.

The other source of silver lies in the silver coins mined by the United States but now being supplanted by copper ones. These, if the government released them, will fill in the demand for another 3 or 4 years.

Lodge Denies Advocating U.S. Invasion

WASHINGTON (AP) — "I never advocated a U.S. invasion of North Vietnam or a bombing of every conceivable target in the North," Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge declared in a statement Wednesday.

The former U.S. envoy to South Vietnam issued the statement after a report of remarks he had asked to be placed off the record was published in an account of his speech to the World Affairs Council of Pittsburgh.

"I never said that restrictions which limit U.S. forces to South Vietnam aid only the enemy," the statement continued. "Nor did I say anything about committing more American soldiers."

Lodge, now a senior State Department adviser in Washington, said none of his remarks during the speech "went beyond the previously and clearly stated position of the U.S. government with respect to Vietnam."

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: After 35 years of marriage, my husband has become involved with a divorcee, 22 years younger than himself. She has four children. Her youngest is the same age as one of our five grandchildren. My husband moved out of our home and into an apartment, where this tramp visits him regularly. He is spending our money on her, and this includes our life's savings, which I helped him accumulate through 38 years of teaching school (I am 58). My husband wants a quiet divorce. But I'm not to get any alimony or consolation money. I am going to end up either broke or crazy if he has his way. Shall I let him dump me for a younger woman, or should I fight it out in court?
TRUE STORY

Dear True: As I see it you've already been "dumped," and unless you settle it out of court, your only alternative is to "fight it out" in court. Don't wait until you end up in the hospital or worse yet, the nut house. Get legal advice now!

DEAR ABBY: A gentleman I know was asked to be my escort at a hotel wedding reception, which would have cost him nothing, but he refused. He merely said he didn't think he "belonged" there. Would you consider this a slap in the face to me? I have never been so humiliated in all my life. Let DOWN

DEAR LET DOWN: Don't take it personally. Perhaps for reasons that didn't concern you, he was right in feeling that he didn't "belong" there.

DEAR ABBY: It's about time someone spoke up for the traveling man. I'm sick of hearing that we're a bunch of playboys, woman-chasing, party boys.
 Most of us work long hours, and then take the highway long after everything closes up in order to be in the next town bright and early the next morning.
 The traveling salesman who is greeted warmly by his wife, and gets plenty of affection while he's home, is not likely to stray.
 I'll bet less than five-per cent of us are guilty of what 95 per cent are accused of.

Nuptial Mass Performed For Lynne Bancroft, Maestas

Before an altar background of white gladioli and blue feather chrysanthemums, Lynne Janet Bancroft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen R. Bancroft, Twin Falls, became the bride of Ronald Carl Maestas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Maestas, Gooding, in a double ring ceremony Sept. 27 at St. Edward's Catholic Church, Twin Falls.

The Nuptial Mass was performed by Rev. William Gould, with Fred Florence and Michael Powlis serving as altar boys.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Bridal Original gown of pearls and scalloped Chantilly lace accented with an oval neckline. The lace cage of the gown swept into a wattle chapel train. A double row of pearl edged lace flares with a spray of flowers held her elbow-length veil of English silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of blue and white gladioli.

Mrs. Sharon Garmann Hanel was matron of honor, with Jo Anne Holland, Pocatello, Verna Halght, Burley, college friends of the bride, as bridesmaids.

Pete Fellini, Boise, was best man. Ushers included Bob McHargue and Dale Mink, Gooding, and Fred Sells, St. Anthony. Fraternity brothers of the bridegroom.

Marian Maestas, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl and carried a basket of white flower petals. Kenneth Maestas, brother of the bridegroom, ringbearer.

After a wedding trip to McCall, the couple will reside at Moscow, where the bridegroom is a senior at the University of Idaho.

A pre-nuptial shower was given for the bride by Miss Holland at her home in Pocatello.

The bride's parents hosted a patio party for the bride, bridegroom and their attendants at their home after the rehearsal. They were assisted by Mrs. Jack Waegelin.

Organ music was provided by Mrs. Joann Cubli.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the Pardon Hall, with Paula Bancroft, Pocatello, cousin of the bride, registering the guests.

Gifts were arranged by Elizabeth Maestas, sister of the bridegroom, and Mark Bancroft, brother of the bride, assisted by David McIntyre.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Silver candelabra with lighted blue tapers were placed at each side of the cake and encircled with Boston Ivy and daisies. Serving cart was Mrs. Janet Utt Crumrine.

The bride's table was flanked with baskets of white gladioli and blue feather chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Francis Utt and Mrs. Vernon Doshier presided at the refreshment table set with a silver punchbowl and coffee service.

Out-of-town guests attended from San Francisco, Oakland, Pasadena, Portland, Butte, St. Anthony, Burley, Gooding, Shoshone, Blaine, Eden, Murtaugh, Kimberly, Wendell and Filer.

War Developments To Tell Democrats' Fate

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Major party leaders agree—developments in the Vietnam war will dictate whether other Democratic candidates reach for President Johnson's political coattails in 1968.
Johnson reportedly advised a group of Democratic senators last week to stress party loyalty, rather than support for him, in their reelection campaigns next year.
Sen. Warren G. Magnuson,

D-Wash., who retired as chair of the National Chairman and critic of the Democratic Senate-Johnson Vietnam policy, said in a separate interview the political complexion "which he said of developments in the Vietnam war will dictate whether other Democratic candidates reach for President Johnson's political coattails in 1968, could change quickly."
"It all depends on the Vietnam war," he said in an interview. "If there is some development that indicates the war may be nearing an end, the President's popularity will shoot up."
"We can lick the Republicans hands down on domestic issues. If there is a light at the end of the Vietnam tunnel, you'll see Democratic candidates scrambling to grab the President's coattails. Otherwise, I would expect those who don't agree with his Vietnam policies to talk about domestic issues and put their own way on Vietnam."
"All they have to do is ask any Republican opponent what he would do to end the war and between New York theater owners and the major theatrical companies, a former Republican was announced Wednesday.

last Thursday in the first of support of his actions. This sentiment, said Mike Mansfield, would be a series change of views, only a disorientation on the President's position.
Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., assistant leader, said nobody was asked to make any commitments.
There was no evidence that critics of Johnson's war policies who attended were swayed by what one of them said amounted to a presidential monologue in the President's course.

Among the dissenters present who expect to be candidates next year, Sen. Ernest Gruening of Alaska, George S. McGovern of South Dakota, Wayne Morse of Oregon and Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin publicly reaffirmed their opposition to a presidential monologue in the President's course.

"You pays your money and you takes your choice!"

Remember how nice it was to have old Mr. Bailey (or Mr. Banducci, or Mr. Bernstein) say Good Morning? And ask about how the oldest was doing at school this semester? And tell you about his azaleas and wasn't it a shame the way the Town Council was handling the park?

And maybe we forget that there wasn't any lettuce in the winter. That you had your choice of one brand of canned Salmon. That in the summer, the one sure topic at the dinner table was whether or not the butter had really turned too much to use.

The fact is, Mr. Bailey had the only game in town. He didn't have too much competition—and you didn't have too much choice.

These days, if your regular store doesn't have bagels or fresh strawberries or convenient parking or nice clerks or seven different kinds of snack crackers...well, you don't even stop to think about it—you just go to a store that does. That's the way the system works—"you pays your money and you takes your choice", including conversation, if you want it.

First Manned Apollo Flight Postponed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The flight of the first manned Apollo spacecraft has been postponed again, possibly until next summer, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration has announced.

Officials indicated the delays are linked with modifications of the spacecraft which were decided on after three astronauts were killed in a launchpad fire last January.

NASA said it is discussing a revision of the spacecraft's delivery date with North American Aviation, Inc., the Apollo prime contractor.

Delivery had been expected around the first of the year. NASA said it will not be possible to set a launch date until the new delivery time is set. Officials said it usually takes three to four months after delivery to prepare a spacecraft for launch.

Ingram's Passing Carries Idaho State's Bid Against Idaho In Boise Saturday

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News Sports Editor
BOISE — Idaho State's Bengals, relying heavily on the passing of quarterback Bill Ingram, will attempt to get their best shot at ending a long University of Idaho domination when the two clubs collide at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in Boise's Bronco Stadium.

The Vandals, coached by Steve Musseau, have won all six games in the series that has run

'Series Fever' Hits In Four Edgy Cities

By The Associated Press
The Tigers have had thousands of backers, which says, Tigers World Series, The Minnesota-Twins already are hanging out World Series bunting around Metropolitan Stadium.

The Chicago White Sox are spending about $50,000 sprucing up Comiskey Park and hiring police to handle the volume of mail.

At Boston, the Red Sox are building a special platform for a World Series team.

The four clubs involved in the light American League baseball race are taking no chances about being caught short-handed when, and if, one of them lands in World Series action at the St. Louis Cardinals of the National League.

None of them, however, is spending a great deal of money. There is a certain amount of caution on all four fronts.

"I guess our series preparations will cost about $50,000," said Rude Schaffer, business manager of the White Sox. "We are doing just little things. Parking facilities are no worry because we have space for 8,000 cars. We have put on extra help to take care of the volume of mail. There is nothing wrong and cleaning work being done around the park. We have a hard core of vendors that can be called on a moment's notice."

The Tigers say their outlay

Lineman Of Week Won By Navy Player

By The Associated Press
Rob Taylor, who hates that empty-handed feeling, has been named The Associated Press college football Lineman of the Week.

The record-setting end for the Naval Academy added another mark to his collection last Saturday when he caught 10 passes, including two for touchdowns in the fourth quarter, as the Midshipmen came from behind twice to beat Penn State 23-22.

The 21-year-old senior now owns Navy's single-game and full-season records for passes caught and yardage.

"The ball he caught for the final touchdown was really phenomenal," said Navy Coach Bill Elias. "The one he caught before that was beautiful, too, but that last one — I don't know when I've ever seen a prettier one. He really outdid himself."

Taylor, a native of Palo Alto, Calif., was a purely utilitarian linemen.

"Look at it this way," the 6-foot-1, 189-pounder said. "If I miss it, it's a long run back to the huddle. If I catch it, the other guys have to come down to me."

Other outstanding linemen last Saturday were Dave Martin, Notre Dame Linebacker 3, D. Hill, Arizona State end, and Danny Lankas, Kansas State Linebacker.

Threat Of Rain Hangs Over Title Match

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti of Italy and challenger Emilio Griffith of New York broke camp Wednesday more worried about the possibility of rain on fight night Thursday than anything else.

Showers were forecast for Thursday. If rain forces a postponement of the keenly awaited return title bout at outdoor Shea stadium, it will be put over to Friday night.

It could have an adverse effect on the boxoffice. Harry Jackson, director of boxing for Madison Square Garden, still was hopeful of a crowd of 35,000 and a gate of more than $300,000.

The 15-rounder will be telecast into arenas but will not be seen live on home television. It will be shown Saturday on ABC's Wide World of Sports and narrow-casted New Yorker.

on delayed television in 28 countries around the world.

Starting time is 10 p.m., EDT. Benvenuti, the handsome Italian boxer-puncher who was a 13-0 underdog when he dethroned Griffith on a unanimous decision here last April 17, was a slight favorite to retain the title.

In Reno, Nev., Benvenuti was a 7-5 favorite. In New York, it was rated even—10-11 and take middleweight.

He has a 13-0 win-loss record, three in welterweight and middleweight fights and one as a challenger. He has a 4-0 record in winning titles, three in welterweight and middleweight fights and one as a challenger.

Benvenuti weighed 153 pounds to Griffith's 155 1/2 when he out-knocked the wide-shouldered, ABC's Wide World of Sports and narrow-waisted New Yorker.

Vandals Will Try Screen Passing

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — Coach Steve Musseau said Wednesday he will have his University of Idaho Vandals try screen passes as much as possible Saturday when the team meets Idaho State University at Boise.

Musseau made the comments after putting his squad through a tough defensive scrimmage with emphasis on pass defense.

"Our pass reception has not been up to par, and I think that we can use our full offensive with the screen pass," Musseau said.

Vandal Paul Gentile will most likely be the starting quarterback when the team meets the Bengals Saturday, Musseau said.

Fair Share Plan Told

What is United Fund? This question has been asked over and over through the years since the fund was started.

In Twin Falls, the United Fund is a corporation of donors who give to charitable organizations in Twin Falls area. The organization exists to attempt to bring order and professional administration to the many solicitations for funds.

The slogan of the fund is: "One gift works many wonders."

President of this year's drive is Twin Falls businessman John Roper.

This year eight agencies will get money for their operating budgets from the Twin Falls United Fund.

Roper said that means seven less knocks on the door.

All charitable groups are invited to join the United Fund, but all don't. Reason they don't, Roper said, is that the organizations feel they can collect more money through their own drives, or do not desire to submit their budgets to the United Fund Budget Committee for inspection.

In Twin Falls, the United Fund drive for committee works with various agencies to insure that modern budgeting and accounting procedures are followed. This prevents wasted money through careless administration.

The United Fund discusses with its participating agencies. All funds collected by the fund are for the operating expenses of the agencies.

If an agency needs more money, for example to buy a Boy Scout Camp, it must solicit its own funds for this purpose.

If an agency cannot obtain enough operating revenue from United Fund, it must turn to its regular sources of income, rather than to the community at large.

United Fund officials emphasize "fair share" giving, and this means that each member of the community should give a fair amount. A fair share is considered to be an hour's pay for each month of the year.

Last Welcome Is Given To British Ship

By JEAN HELLER

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — Fireboats, hovercraft, military bands and thousands of cheering spectators gave the Queen Mary II the warmest last welcome Wednesday night as the majestic liner ended 31 years of transatlantic voyages. But a dock dispute forced passengers to get off without some baggage.

The 81,25-ton liner-stacker came home in a festoon of streamers, surrounded by ships of many sizes, with its mighty siren blast drowning out the roar of the crowd. She docked dead on time at the end of her final voyage from New York.

After two short cruises, the Grand Old Lady will sail around Cape Horn next month into honorable retirement as a floating hotel and museum at Long Beach, Calif. She had been losing money in recent years, mainly to passenger plane competition.

Wednesday's homecoming, with all its nostalgia and emotion, was marred by a group of longshoremen who began an overtime ban only half an hour before the queen nudged into port.

Capt. John Treasure Jones exclaimed: "What a magnificent welcome by the people of Southampton. New York gave us a tremendous send-off, but this was the best. The whole of Southampton must have been there."

Then the skipper added: "But I think it's a damned poor show that it was all marred by the action of the dockers on our final arrival on a transatlantic run."

The ban on overtime by 650 crane operators and other dockside workers meant that passengers will not receive their heavy baggage until Thursday. Most of the light baggage of the returning passengers was offloaded by conveyor belt.

Passengers sang, drank and danced until dawn in the salons. France, came into view early Wednesday, the 33rd anniversary of the luxury liner's launching at Clydebank, Scotland.

Climate Changes In Alaska Seen After 10-Year Study

MOSCOW — Alaska's climate has changed after a 10-year study of floral sequences in Alaska.

By studying vegetation changes recorded in thousands of feet of non-marine rocks along 350 miles of the Arctic slope, Prof. Smiley was able to interpret paleoclimates for a large portion of Alaska. He found the vegetation and inferred climate zones during Jurassic and Cretaceous time (65 to 63 million years ago) was latitudinal, and the vegetation zones shifted northward. This produced a warming trend in Alaska and a climate warmer than today.

Plot To Poison Police During Riot Uncovered

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dist. Atty. Arlon Specter revealed Wednesday a plot originally conceived to "poison hundreds of policemen" if a riot was started in Philadelphia this past summer.

Specter said the conspiracy under investigation for some time, was hatched by the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM), which he described as a Negro extremist group.

Specter, promising prompt arrests possibly within hours, said an informant advised RAM sought persons to place potassium cyanide or other poisons in coffee and sandwiches served police officers on riot duty.

It was alleged the informant surrendered to FBI agents a quantity of poison, enough to have killed 1,500 persons.

During the summer, police arrested a number of RAM members on conspiracy and inciting to riot charges.

$72,000 Is Fund Goal

The goal for the Twin Falls United Fund Drive this year is $72,000 and eight agencies are taking part under the direction of volunteer area business leaders.

President of the campaign is John Roper, campaign chairman is Daryl Ander and chairman of the loaned executive program is Ivan Skinner.

Last year, $67,500 was raised. The drive starts next Monday morning.

Agencies taking part this year are the YMCA, United Service Organization, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, Salvation Army, Red Cross and YWCA.

Two key men of the fund drive this year are Mr. Skinner and Hubert S. Coats. Mr. Coats is vice chairman of the commercial and government divisions in the drive.

He is president of the Twin Falls Lions Club and past president of Junior Achievement and plans to serve on the board of directors of the Twin Falls Salvation Army.

Mr. Skinner has recruited and is training 14 local executives. The executives have been loaned to the United Fund for four weeks by various business firms and governmental agencies. These men will devote their full time to the United Fund campaign.

Pictures of each of these executives will be run when the campaign gets underway next week.

Report Views Seance With Pike's Son

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Did Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike communicate with his dead son during a seance that was taped and televised in Toronto earlier this month?

The bishop believes he did.

Some experts in the field of psychological research believe he did not.

The man who arranged the session, Allen Spraggett, 45, in the middle, believing there was strong evidence of communication and, at the least, of extrasensory perception (ESP) but, if it was his son, was that an open question.

At the seance, which took place Sept. 3 and was shown on CTV, the private Canadian network, Sept. 17, the Rev. Arthur Ford, a widely known medium and ordained minister of the Disciples of Christ Church, went into a trance. His spirit control, Fletcher, a French-Canadian he communique with his dead son, James J. Pike, relayed messages to the bishop purportedly from dead friends and relatives.

The controversial bishop said in an interview in Seattle Tuesday that during the session his son, James J., spoke to him directly through the medium without the control.

The bishop's son committed suicide in February, 1966, at the age of 22.

"He referred to events—a lot of difficulties—and seemed very aware of things, said the bishop. He said his son knew of his dispute with the Church over interpretation of some traditional doctrines."

Crisis In American Ghetto Schools Growing Into Dilemma

By L. F. PALMER JR.
NEA Special Writer

CHICAGO (NEA)—The most important challenge facing the city, as it considers the program of public education, is the challenge to adequately provide for the education of culturally disadvantaged children.

That statement was made in 1954 by Prof. Robert J. Havighurst of the University of Chicago, who about the public schools of Chicago. It probably could be made today about most of the major metropolitan centers of the North.

In Chicago, three years after the Havighurst public school survey submitted its many recommendations, Warren Bacon, one of two Negro members of the board of education, said in an interview:

"The board has done virtually nothing about the report. All it does is pass resolutions but words won't solve the problem. I am not convinced that the board of education is ready or willing to face up to the problem of quality education in ghetto schools."

Who is to blame for school conditions which send into society a steady stream of alienated, poorly trained, low-goaled Negroes?

Who is to blame when ghetto schools fail the city by producing rolls and legions who turn to the laws of the jungle and make violence their way of life—or death?

Dr. Donald H. Smith, director of the Center for Inner City Studies in Chicago, says slum children do not achieve as they should "not because of the linguistic sterility and lack of educational motivation of deprived homes but because of the attitudes of their teachers."

"Because teachers have decided that disadvantaged children can't learn, many teachers don't teach; and nobody is very surprised when no learning takes place."

The Rev. Arthur Brazier, president of The Woodlawn Organization, a militant community group, also blames the schools.

"They have found ways to educate other handicapped children, the blind, the deaf, the crippled. Now let them find a way to educate the child handicapped by his life in the slum."

Many teachers, principals and social scientists feel that the avenues to teaching the ghetto child are choked off even before the youngster shows up for kindergarten.

"His home life, festering with the poisons of poverty, neglect, family deterioration and an aura of despair, erects a barrier to normal learning," they say.

John E. Coons, of the North-western University Law School, concluded:

"No matter what improvements we make in the educational system, no matter how stringently we enforce school attendance, we will not solve the problem until we attack it at its source—in the home."

Botswana Still Far From Independent

By DENNIS LEE ROYLE
GABERONE, Botswana (AP) — The flag of Botswana flies proudly in Gaberone, denoting freedom from colonial rule, but this country in southern Africa is far from independent a year after Britain's Union Jack came down.

After 81 years under the British, this dust-bowl territory almost as big as Texas hoisted its new flag Sept. 30, 1966, swore in Seretse Khama as president and faced the problem of feeding more than 100,000 persons near starvation.

Few other emerging black African states celebrated independence against such odds. "We continue to be economically dependent on outside aid and lack development funds," Khama says. "We must overcome this problem by increasing our internal security and creating confidence which will in

Antismoking Broadcasts Are Plentiful

NEW YORK (AP) — Last June the Federal Communications Commission extended the fairness doctrine to cigarette advertising and since then the airwaves have been racked by coughs and messages urging smokers to quit.

Dozens of antismoking spot announcements turned out by the cancer, heart and tuberculosis health agencies are being used by television and radio. The tobacco industry claims no one has ever proven any causal connection between cigarette smoking and cancer, or other diseases.

The FCC ruled that reasonable free time should be given for rebuttal to cigarette commercials. The fairness doctrine is related to the equal time section of the Communications Act which, for instance, requires that equal time be given to political candidates.

"The stations began coming to us after the FCC ruling," said Irwin Lewis, radio-television-film director for the American Heart Association. There is no way of telling how often the spots are being broadcast and how many stations are cooperating. But spokesmen for the health groups say the response has been good, that only a few stations have refused to run the spots. The antismoking spot announcements, which run from 10 to 60 seconds, range from clever satire to animated cartoons to sports star endorsement to the straight approach.

TOKYO (AP) — Peking's official news agency said a Chinese deserter, head of the Anglo-American Corp. of South Africa, was sentenced to death and executed in Peking Wednesday.

The New China News Agency said Li Fang-cheng, 32, was sentenced at a mass rally and was immediately taken away and executed. It was not known whether he was hanged or faced a firing squad.

SUNNY LIU, tenor recording and concert artist will be guest singer Friday and Saturday night at the Science and Salvation series at the Seventh Day Adventist Church at Grandview Drive and Addison Ave. W. He has appeared throughout the United States. The public is invited to attend the meetings, starting at 7:30 p.m. each day.

Wilson's Son Gets Refund Of U. S. Tax

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The son of England's prime minister has found speedy justice through an American newspaper. He sought an income tax refund from the United States and got every cent.

Robin Wilson came to the U.S. on a graduate scholarship in August 1963. He studied advanced mathematics at the University of Pennsylvania.

Last year, to augment the limited expense money advanced by good old Britain's Prime Minister Harold Wilson—he took a job as freshman math instructor at Penn. earned $2,500 and paid a $250 tax.

Then young Wilson learned a British subject doesn't have to pay income tax if he teaches less than two years. So he applied for a refund.

Internal Revenue Service, after red tape and delays, gave Wilson $29.54. So the mathematician, now teaching in Massachusetts, appealed to the Philadelphia Bulletin, which runs a "Mr. Fixit" column.

Speedily, the afternoon newspaper contacted IRS in Washington, diplomatically identified the complaining alien and the remainder of the $250 was refunded.

The next move, probably, will be by British tax collectors.

Writer Tells Impression Of Idaho Penitentiary

By MARK BROWN
BOISE (AP) — The visitor's first view of the Idaho State Penitentiary is the well-furnished courtyard inside the main gate.

The bright flowers and meticulously kept hedges are deceiving because beyond is the home of some 350 captives of society.

And the flowered courtyard opens into the hard dirt of "deadlock" where man is shut if he steps onto the carefully-raked earth.

Beyond the flowers and the dead-end dirt are the men whom society has judged too dangerous to be free. They stroll the yard and they work in the license plate shop and they lie in their "bunks" they sit in the library and they stand along the sidewalks.

They have time. Some, a few months. Others, a lifetime. The inmate's day begins at 7:20 a.m. when the steel door to his cell clangs open. In 40 minutes, he has dressed, shaved and eaten. He then goes to work.

There's a job here for every one," said Melvin Howard, captain of the guards and chief correctional officer. "We could use more."

The men live in one of four cell blocks — out of five that have been constructed at odd periods throughout the 85-year history of the institution.

One of the cellblocks, formerly used for newcomers, tuberculosis patients and homosexuals, has recently been cleared of inmates.

This reflects the "heat" put on the institution by Idaho Gov.

Increased Food Prices Boost Cost Of Living

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher food prices led to a rise in living costs of three-tenths of one percent in August, the government said Wednesday. And a Johnson administration official said a price increase would help ease the threat of inflation.

"A tax increase would mitigate price pressures," said Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics in reporting living costs up 2.7 per cent so far in 1967.

They might reach nearly 3 per cent by year-end, close to last year's 10-year high of 3.3 per cent, Ross added.

His urging of a tax rise was one of several similar statements from administration officials in recent weeks since President Johnson's request for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge took effect. The results of an investigation of penitentiary operations by his office. Only two inmates were in the so-called "maximum security" cellblock this week, leaving three cellblocks to house the rest of the prisoners.

One of the landmarks of the old penitentiary is the "Hole," a dungeon-like place for disciplinary confinement. It is no restrictions in the mess hall. They used to have to line up, arms folded across their chests, and maintain silence in line and in the mess hall.

"We don't do that any more. That used to be the greatest cause for disciplinary action — that and cursing an officer." Three cellblocks house the 350 inmates. One cellblock has no toilets. Buckets are used. In the other two, each cell has a toilet. In most of the cells, inmates have used scraps from the prison upholstery shop to make toilet seats covers and backs.

In the two newer cellblocks, the fronts of the cells are covered by vertical bars. In the older one, a latticework of steel — more steel than light. Cards, books, handmade ashtrays, pipe racks, personal artifacts and an occasional radio decorate the cells. The men are back in their bunks by 8 p.m. Outside, cars and trucks roll by on Highway 21. On nearby Warm Springs Avenue, lights have been on in the steadily residences for nearly an hour. The hum of machinery from the license plate shop where 900,000 are made in the 1.2 million reflection of the state's steel and concrete buildings. And, around the lighted walls, said, "But we've relaxed the guards walk their posts."

The main problem in developing this form of caseless energy centered around ways to ignite the pill, using low energy and a simple means — meaning a simple detonating device which minimized weight an action.

"The second big problem," Schofield says proudly, "was finding the combustible compound which could be compressed into pill form and stay that way safely in storage. All I can divulge now is that the pill is made mostly of fibrous (to hold it together) nitrocellulose."

In the Ammo tool, the pill works roughly this way: A simple percussive impact off a flat firing pin brings the charge to the ignition point. When the pill is confined tightly in a chamber of nearly equal shape and size, its configuration burns until consumed but not with alarming intensity.

While the company suggests no military or ordinance use, Schofield acknowledges that pill ordinance potentialities are unlimited. Staggeringly expensive shell casings could be eliminated, revolutionizing the automatic weaponry.

"All I can say," Schofield sighed, "is that we hope to turn full time to the pill's industrial and consumer potentialities as soon as we're geared for it."

When that happens, he can begin to think about promoting company image with one of those nifty slogans.

Varsity Has Coffee

You're sitting down in a barbershop and waiting your turn in the barber's chair. You also are drinking coffee.

Seems impossible. Not so at Varsity Barbershop. They have free coffee for all their customers. Their motto is "Free Coffee While You Wait."

The shop, located in the rear of Bud's Duds, opened its doors four years ago and has three outstanding barbers. They are Hank Phillips, the manager, Elwyn Tupper and Frank McAuley.

These barbers are equipped with the latest tools and are ready to give any type of haircut.

All men and boys are urged to go into the Varsity and have haircuts by experts.

Bud's Duds Has Sixth Anniversary

Celebrating six years in the Lynwood Shopping Center is Bud's Duds, a clothing store for the family.

Bud's Duds opened its doors on Aug. 8, 1961, with 2,500 square feet of space devoted to men's and boys' clothing and shoes for the family. A year later the store opened a ladies' sportswear department.

In 1963 when the Blue Lakes Branch of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co., moved, Bud's Duds enlarged their store to include the space vacated by the bank, enlarging their ladies' sportswear department because 75 per cent of the shoppers these days are women.

At the same time the back part of the store was remodeled and refinished in mahogany paneling and a barbershop was added in the rear of the store.

A suit room also was added to the store and is called the "Alumni Suit Room."

This year Bud's Duds is adding another room to the store, called the "Sports Den." This room will carry all types of

Hudson's Has Shoes For Everyone

A shoe store for the entire family is Hudson's, located in the Lynwood Shopping Center. This store has been operating in the shopping center for seven years.

This business is a branch store of the downtown Twin Falls store. Managing the Lynwood store is Earl Bickford. He has managed the store since opening day.

When the store first opened, it was known as Hudson's Suburban Shoes. The name was changed to Hudson's in the fall of 1964. During January and February of 1964, the store expanded to handle the large volume of business which grew very rapidly.

The store was remodeled and the storage room was enlarged.

A complete line of shoes are available at the store. They include famous names as Smartaire, Naturalizer, Miss America, Jantzen's, Cover Girl and Hush

Shoe department at Vans Department Store.

Puppies. Other famous brand names are Robie, Red Wing and Pedwin.

For the younger set, Hudson's has Buster Brown and Robin Hood shoes, plus Keds and Gripes tennis shoes for everyone. Acme boots also are available.

A large selection of hosiery, handbags, purses and house slippers for the ladies can be found in the store.

Helping Mr. Bickford in the store is Alan Shark, who joined the store two years ago, and Mrs. Irene Dockstader.

Barton's Observes Fifth Anniversary

Observing its fifth anniversary in the Lynwood Shopping Center is Barton's Jewelry, a live-wire jewelry store, located next to the Arctic Circle.

Several departments in the jewelry store, owned and managed by Dick Barton, have been expanded since moving to Lynwood. The diamond department is Dick's pride and joy.

Mr. Barton selects each stone himself and mounts it in a ring of the very latest style, to give his customers the very best quality for the price. All kinds of special design and manufacturing work is done by Barton's Jewelry.

Another expanded department is the birthstone department.

Through the years Dick has operated this department on a low-profit, large-volume basis. He has over 2,000 rings from which to choose from, the largest in Magic Valley.

The watch line has been enlarged to include Elgin and Bulova line. The latest electronic watches that Barton's have is the Bulova Accutron, the time piece used by X-15 pilots and astronauts.

Another item which is a specialty of Barton's is the new cordless electric wall clock which will operate up to two years on a flashlight battery.

Dick invites everyone to visit his store and see the large selection of jewelry, watches, etc.

King's is Lynwood's only variety store. It has such items as toys, clothing, paper, knickknacks, etc. King's also is celebrating an anniversary, its seventh.

King's Is One Of Largest Stores In Shopping Center

One of the largest stores in the Lynwood Shopping Center is King's. This large variety store first began as a small store in a 25-foot room in downtown Twin Falls in 1935. It was known then as M. H. King Co.

In 1940 a lot was purchased on Main Avenue East and a new store built. In August, 1960, the store moved to the Lynwood Shopping Center.

Today King's is one of 24 such stores in Idaho, Utah, Montana and Oregon. The first store built in Magic Valley was in 1915 in Burley.

Today the line of merchandise carried in the store has gone far beyond the original 5 and 10-cent concept to the present wide assortments of soft goods, housewares, toys and hardware.

The organization maintains a close contact with all the markets in the United States and buyers travel to New York, Chicago and Los Angeles to attend various merchandise showings.

Robert Kulin, manager of the store in Twin Falls since 1960, has been with the company for more than 17 years. Prior to being manager in Twin Falls, Mr. Kulin was manager of stores in Preston and Blackfoot.

The Twin Falls store now employs 15 people. Longtime employees of the store include Norma Botcher, who has been with the store since 1917; Hilda Walke, who has been with the store since 1949; Priscilla Scott, since 1952, and Mary Biggers, since 1953.

President of King's is H. E. King, Burley.

King's and its employees are proud to be a part of the Lynwood Shopping Center and to serve the public with modern facilities.

Mrs. Robert Kulm, owner-manager, purchased the business in 1965 from the store's original owner, Catherine Siebert. Since then there has been interior changes and a line of Children's sportswear and sweaters have been added. The growth and improvement of this store is because of the acceptance of residents in the valley and "our thanks to all," states Mrs. Kulm.
